LLLP1-CE 1000 NYUSPS Curated Lectures (0 Credits)

The NYUSPS Great Lectures series offers a unique opportunity to partake in the continuing education student experience. We invite you to be curious and engaged. Sample from a breadth of interesting topics that will be showcased, over the course of a day, by featured faculty and other renowned guest lecturers. The presenters, including authors, architects, historians, and other experts, are from a variety of fields, and many teach NYUSPS courses throughout the year. Whether you're interested in an enriching day of exploring the issues that matter to you most, or you seek an opportunity to test out being a student again, this program provides the option to survey the vast array of subject matter offered at SPS. The day begins with a morning keynote lecture by one of our featured faculty members. Following the keynote lecture, you can choose from a menu of hour-long lectures that will run over the course of three breakout sessions. Coffee and light refreshments will be served in the morning, and you will have a lunch break to explore local options on your own.
