Registrar's Office

The NYU Abu Dhabi Registrar's office provides academic services and information on registration throughout the year. Any student with a question or concern is invited to come to the Registrar's office at C2 E041 or email them at nyuad.registrar@nyu.edu for assistance or to view its website at https://students.nyuad.nyu.edu/academics/registration/. Office hours are weekdays from 9:00am to noon, and 1:30pm to 4:00pm (except on Tuesday when the office is open 1:30pm to 4:00pm).

Students can complete their initial registration through Albert, NYU's online registration system, at home.nyu.edu (http://home.nyu.edu/). Students can also use Albert to make later adjustments to their schedule.

Program of Study

NYU Abu Dhabi undergraduate students will take a minimum of 128 credits of coursework to graduate; these courses will be distributed among core curriculum requirements, major requirements, and general electives. Students will typically complete the core curriculum during their first two years and the bulk of their major requirements during their second two years. Students considering some of the STEM majors (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics), however, may take longer to complete the core courses since they must begin taking required courses in their intended major as early as the first semester.
