General Information

The Graduate School of Arts and Science charges tuition on a per-credit basis. A student must complete 70-72 credits for the PhD degree and 30-40 credits for the master's degree, depending on the program. A full-time course load generally falls between 9-12 credits per semester depending on program.

The Board of Trustees of New York University reserves the right to alter this schedule of fees without notice. All fees must be paid per term at the time of registration in the Office of the Bursar, located at 383 Lafayette Street. Checks and drafts should be drawn to the order of New York University in the exact amount of tuition and fees required. In the case of overpayment, the balance is refunded upon request by filing a refund application in the Office of the Bursar. A fee will be charged if payment is not made by the due date indicated on the student's statement.

The unpaid balance of a student's account is also subject to an interest charge of 12 percent per annum from the first day of class until payment is received.

Students who receive awards after registration will receive a check from the University after the New York State payment has been received by the Office of the Bursar, and the Office of the University Registrar has confirmed eligibility.
