

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Statement Of Policy

New York University ("NYU" or the "University"), like other communities and organizations in our society, has a right to require the cooperation of its members in the performance of its educational functions, and to oversee and regulate the conduct and behavior of such members which, actually or has potential to, impede, obstruct, or threaten the maintenance of order and achievement of the University's educational goals.

The authority to establish academic standards and address allegations of student academic misconduct is lodged with the faculty of each college or school at NYU. In addition to the academic standards and other policies established by each school, the University Senate has also defined certain areas of non-academic misconduct that are applicable to all students. The standards of non-academic misconduct set forth in this policy are applicable to all undergraduate and graduate students and Student Organizations at NYU, in all schools and locations, including Study Away Sites, and Portal Campuses.

Academic Freedom And Freedom of Expression

The University is a community where the means of seeking to establish truth are open discussion and free discourse. It thrives on debate and dissent, which must be protected as a matter of academic freedom within the University, quite apart from the question of constitutional rights. The University also recognizes that a critically engaged, activist student body contributes to NYU's academic mission. Free inquiry, free expression, and free association enhances academic freedom and intellectual engagement.

This policy is not intended to discipline students or Student Organizations for asserting one's rights of academic freedom, scholarly classroom dissent or civil discourse, nor hinder organized, nonviolent, peaceful protest. However, such conduct must occur within the standards set forth in Section III of this policy, as well as other applicable University policies.
