The NYU Abu Dhabi Library

Service to scholars is the primary mission of the NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) Library. We provide resources and technologies needed for research and teaching and offer assistance in their use. Members of the NYUAD community have access to our extensive physical and electronic resources, including:

- over 90,000 physical books
- over 7,000 DVDs
- over 400,000 ejournals
- nearly 1500 databases
- over 4 million ebooks
- numerous Macs and PCs equipped with a robust suite of hardware and software.

The NYUAD Library (<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/library.html>) is fully connected to NYU Libraries resources (<https://guides.nyu.edu/az/databases/>) in New York, providing seamless access for our global scholars. These electronic resources are accessible within the Library and remotely from anywhere in the world. Additionally, NYUAD students, faculty and staff may request items from NYU Libraries' (NY) collection of over 4 million items, or from other library collections worldwide.

The NYUAD Library is home to specialized departments that enable innovative forms of scholarly inquiry and teaching, including our Archives and Special Collections department (<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/library/collections/archives-and-special-collections.html>), which contains unique primary source materials that support the teaching and research needs of students and faculty, and promote scholarship and interest in the history of the UAE, the Gulf, the Arabian Peninsula, and the wider region. Students and faculty can get specialized assistance with their research needs by working with our dedicated team of academic librarians (<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/library/research-and-instruction-services/research-librarians.html>), who can help you learn about the resources and research strategies available for your field of study. The Library is also home to the university's Center for Writing, the Academic Resource Center, the Hilary Ballon Center for Teaching and Learning and the Faculty Hub.

Comfortable reading areas, Mac and PC computing stations equipped with a wide variety of software and small and large group study rooms create a productive atmosphere for research. The dedicated Quiet Study Room on the Mezzanine level provides plenty of space for students to focus on their research in a relaxed environment. Research assistance is available via phone, email, chat, and in-person allowing for nearly 24/7 research assistance. The Library follows the NYUAD University Academic Calendar for in-person operational days.

Center for Research Computing

Research Computing consists of the infrastructure, applications, expert staff, policies, and other resources required to support computational and data-intensive activities related to research.

The New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) Center for Research Computing serves New York University Abu Dhabi's researchers, faculty and students by providing them with High Performance Computing (HPC) and Research computing services and support to enable them to conduct world-class and innovative computational research and education.

In alignment with NYU Abu Dhabi's vision of becoming one of the world's great research universities we will push the boundaries of computational research and become a world class Center for Research Computing.

Laboratories Operation and Maintenance

The Laboratories Operation and Maintenance Department (Lab Ops) functions as a real-time business continuity unit that anticipates needs and problems in advance, puts resources in place within the limits of the resources provided by the university, and responds in real-time to ensure that laboratory activities are enabled.

Lab Ops acts as advocates on behalf of the faculty, researchers and students in matters that are operational in nature but are intertwined with the academic mission. Lab Ops provides support for research and teaching to all of NYUAD labs and divisions.

NYUAD Campus

The campus of NYU Abu Dhabi is located on Saadiyat Island, a natural island that lies a short distance from the main island of Abu Dhabi and is now under development. The Cultural District of Saadiyat Island will feature three major museums: the Zayed National Museum, the Louvre Abu Dhabi, and the Guggenheim Abu Dhabi. Other districts will take advantage of the island's spectacular beaches and mangrove lagoons. NYU Abu Dhabi is located in the Al Marina District, which will eventually have a prominent marina and downtown feel.

Occupying a total area of approximately 15.4 hectares (38 acres) of land, the university occupies two sites: the main site with the university buildings, and the north site, where the outdoor athletic facilities are located. The campus design allows the natural environment to be experienced year-round. It is dense, walkable, and responsive to the climate, with shaded walkways and landscaped courtyards, plazas, and gardens for social interaction. The design also fosters the integration of living and learning, with residences, classrooms, and faculty offices organized in mixed-use buildings, not separated in distinct areas.

The campus, designed by Rafael Vinoly Architects, is organized by its split-level, pedestrian-only circulation system. At ground level, shaded colonnades, pools of water, and landscaped sitting areas flank the main east-west spine of the campus. Three plazas along this main street form gathering places, and other campus streets connect the plazas to the surrounding area. The plazas each have a major center of campus life: the Experimental Research Building on the West Plaza, the Arts Center on the East Plaza, and the Campus Center on the Central Plaza. A dining hall stands at the east end of the main street.

On the south side of the campus are academic buildings, with ground-floor classrooms and faculty and administrative offices on the first floor. In the middle of the buildings are outdoor courtyards with trees and informal seating for a break between classes. The sloping walls that surround the courtyards form dramatic glass cones. Stunning sculptural objects, the glass cones bring light into the academic buildings, offer views of the upper residential level, and reveal the campus's unique split-level circulation system.

Two stories above ground level, the "High Line" provides access to the residences and informal, green spaces. Having students, faculty, and staff living on campus facilitates interaction, a key to the educational experience at NYU Abu Dhabi. Faculty and senior staff reside in apartments with views over the campus, to downtown Abu Dhabi, and across Saadiyat Island to the Arabian Gulf. The student residences are organized around courtyards with gardens and areas to relax outdoors. In the middle of the courtyards, the glass cones emerge and afford views from the High Line down to the ground level, visually connecting the living and learning spaces. The beautifully landscaped High Line weaves through intimate residential courtyards and across rooftops where dramatic vistas of the campus and the city unfold. The High Line is more than a pathway; a social space where neighbors chat and stroll, children play, students jog and hang out, it reinforces the spirit of community and friendliness that characterizes NYU Abu Dhabi.

Shading systems achieved through urban design, the close proximity of structures, architectural features such as the colonnades, and the integration of landscape materials facilitate the University's goal of year-round use of outdoor spaces. Measures to generate 75 percent of household hot water and 10 percent of power from renewable energy sources help the University achieve its sustainability goals.

The layout of the campus promotes interaction between the disciplines. The facilities include a wide variety of instructional spaces, including experimental laboratories, new media labs, film production facilities, music practice rooms, and classrooms with sophisticated technological infrastructure. The flexible labs in the Experimental Research Building support a range of advanced research projects. The Arts Center has four theaters and a variety of teaching and production spaces, including art studios for painting, drawing, sculpture, and animation, media labs, editing suites, and film shooting stages. The Campus Center combines the Library, Student Center, Health and Wellness Center, and a performance gymnasium with a 50-meter pool, running track, ball courts, climbing wall, squash and racquetball courts, and fitness center. The indoor athletic facilities are complemented by outdoor fields, track and tennis courts.

An open campus, NYU Abu Dhabi welcomes members of the public—to lectures and conferences at the NYUAD Institute Conference Center; exhibitions at the Art Gallery; athletic activities at the Sports Center; and performances at the Arts Center. The campus also has a Bookstore and variety of cafes and dining facilities.

Welcome Center in Abu Dhabi

The NYU Abu Dhabi Welcome Center is the first point of contact for visitors at the Saadiyat Campus. Located at the main entrance, the Welcome Center provides visitors with information about all aspects of the university, including admissions, the NYU Abu Dhabi Institute, and human resources. The Welcome Center is also the meeting place for those attending an information session, joining a campus tour, seeking print literature about the university, or meeting with a member of the NYUAD faculty or staff. Prospective students and their parents are encouraged to come to the Welcome Center to schedule a visit with an admissions counselor.

Writing Center

NYU Abu Dhabi provides students with resources to support their development as communicators, scholars, and global citizens able to articulate their ideas to a 21st century international audience.

The Writing Center is central to this support. The Writing Center is a co-curricular initiative designed both to assist students with writing across the curriculum and to implement the Writing Program's pedagogy. It is crucially positioned to serve the needs of writers working across a range of disciplines, genres, and rhetorical conventions.

Located in the Library, the NYUAD Writing Center offers one-on-one consultations with a team of Writing Instructors and peer tutors. The Writing Center believes that every writer needs a reader, so Writing Center consultations are designed to aide and develop the writer's project at any stage of the process—from brainstorming to fine-tuning, from developing a motive and a thesis to integrating sources ethically. The Writing Center offers support for writing, oral expression, and English Language Learning issues. As the hub for a culture of writing on campus, throughout the year the Writing Center hosts workshops, writing boot camps, and events leading up to finals and capstones.

Members of the Writing Center team, as experienced readers and writers, can consult on all types of writing assignments, papers, and projects, and help students develop strategies for revising, improving specific writing skills, or better understanding a student's own writing process. Students can make walk-in appointments or schedule them via the Writing Center website under the student portal. Students from any field or discipline are welcomed to visit the Writing Center at <https://nyuad.mywconline.com>.
