

SPANISH (MINOR)

Department Website (<http://as.nyu.edu/spanish/>)

Program Description

Spanish is a dynamic global language, spoken by millions across five continents, with rich historical and cultural relations to the United States, where Spanish is the nation's second language and is tied to important debates on migration, citizenship, and identity. This five-course (20-credit) minor allows students to advance and demonstrate their fluency in the language and to engage the complex cultures of the Spanish-speaking world. With a minimum requirement of one advanced Spanish course in the study of culture (a "300-level" course), students are free to choose their other four electives according to their interests, delving deeper into the study of culture, or exploring Spanish in applied contexts, such as translation, creative writing, or studying Spanish for medicine or business. Students pursuing the minor are encouraged to study away at NYU Madrid or NYU Buenos Aires, where they may complete a significant portion of the minor through site-specific classes and immersive experiences. In addition, minors may participate in internships and collaborate on the online undergraduate journal, Esferas. Students interested in the major track in Spanish should consult the program page for Spanish and Portuguese (BA).

Admissions

New York University's Office of Undergraduate Admissions supports the application process for all undergraduate programs at NYU. For additional information about undergraduate admissions, including application requirements, see How to Apply (<https://www.nyu.edu/admissions/undergraduate-admissions/how-to-apply.html>).

Program Requirements

The minor requires the completion of five 4-credit courses (20 credits) above the intermediate level with a grade of C or higher; four of these courses must be taught in the Spanish language.

Total Credits		20

(or their equivalent) are prerequisites for 300-level courses, and count as electives in the minor.

<sup>3</sup> Four out of the five courses in the minor must be taught in Spanish. Students may count one course taught in English focused on the Spanish-speaking world.

<sup>4</sup> Students may only count one "conversation" course toward the minor; conversation courses include SPAN-UA 60 Advanced Conversation as well as conversation courses taught abroad in Madrid or Buenos Aires.

Course Numbering System

Please see the curriculum tab for Spanish and Portuguese (BA) in this Bulletin.

Policies

Program Policies

Department of Spanish and Portuguese: Policies Applying to All Minors

Students who wish to minor must declare with the department and select courses in consultation with the director of undergraduate studies. All minor courses must be completed with a grade of C or better (Pass/Fail grades do not count). Transfer students must complete at least half the courses for their minor (three courses for a five-course minor) in residence at NYU.

Double-Counting of Courses

Minors may share (double-count) one course with a major or a second minor, with permission from the other department/program.

Placement in Spanish Language Courses (Including: Placement and Exemption Examinations; Advanced Placement and Other Advanced Standing Credit)

For complete information on placement into the correct level of language study and/or exemption from the Core foreign language requirement, please consult the Department of Spanish and Portuguese webpage (<https://as.nyu.edu/departments/spanish/undergraduate/language-program.html>) detailing its language program policies. Students are responsible for reviewing this page before enrolling in any SPAN-UA coursework. No credit is ever awarded for any CAS placement or exemption exam.
