

ADVISING

Advisement in Steinhardt is integral to the academic experience and is organized departmentally and by program. Undergraduate students are admitted to Steinhardt to pursue a chosen major. Advisement provides the framework for educational planning and assessing progress toward educational, personal, and career goals. The most important person to meet with for academic advisement is your department program advisor.