

ADVISING

Appointments

Students can view their adviser's availability and schedule one-on-one advising meetings via NYU Connect (<https://nyu.starfishsolutions.com/starfish-ops/>). If a student is not able to schedule an appointment with their adviser via NYU Connect (<https://nyu.starfishsolutions.com/starfish-ops/>), please contact them directly using their NYU e-mail address.

Students are required to meet with their adviser at least once per semester, during the registration clearance period, prior to registration for the upcoming term. Students will receive communication from the Office of Advising and Academic Services regarding registration clearance. If students have any advisement-related questions or concerns prior to this, they should email their adviser.

**Please Note: Each adviser establishes their availability on an individual basis, so students should check in with their adviser directly if they have any questions regarding when to schedule an advising appointment, or if they do not see any available advising slots in NYU Connect.
