

ADVISING

Appointments

Students can view their advisor's availability and schedule one-on-one advising meetings via NYU Connect (<https://nyu.starfishsolutions.com/starfish-ops/>). If you are not able to schedule an appointment with your advisor via NYU Connect (<https://nyu.starfishsolutions.com/starfish-ops/>), please contact them directly using their NYU e-mail address.

Students are required to meet with their advisor at least once per semester, during the registration clearance period, prior to registration for the upcoming term. You will receive communication from the Office of Advising and Academic Services regarding registration clearance. If you have any advisement-related questions or concerns prior to this, please email your advisor.

\*Please Note:* Each advisor establishes their availability on an individual basis, so you should check in with your advisor directly if you have any questions regarding when to schedule an advising appointment, or if you do not see any available advising slots in NYU Connect.
