

INEQUALITY STUDIES (MINOR)

Program Description

This program will help students understand the complex problem of inequality and its consequences as it affects children, families, the homeless, the disabled, and many other disenfranchised members of our communities. Gain first-hand knowledge of the conditions faced by these populations and the impact of political and economic factors on the day-to-day realities of service provision.

Minor Declaration

Interested students may formally declare the minor via NYU Albert.
